CHAOS and HARMONY

CHAMBER MUSIC FESTIVAL AND MASTERCLASSES

20-28 July 2019 Liszt Academy | "Vigadó" of Buda

festivalacademy.org

Artistic Directors: Katalin Kokas and Barnabás Kelemen

MORE THAN A FESTIVAL: A FEELING FESTIVAL ACADEMY BUDAPEST

Festival Academy Budapest, founded and led by leading Hungarian violinists, Katalin Kokas and Barnabás Kelemen gives an opportunity for the world's most exceptional musicians to play chamber music and spend time together, hold discussions, share dinners – and much, much more. In 2019, Festival Academy welcomes violinist like Vilde Frang, Shlomo Mintz and Alina Ibragimova, violists like Maxim Rysanov and Razvan Popovici, cellists like Maximilian Hornung and Dóra Kokas, pianists like José Gallardo, Dezső Ránki, Edit Klukon and Dejan Lazic, among many others. The program features all-time favorites, like Schubert's Trout Quintet or Beethoven's Kreutzer Sonata, rarely heard masterpieces like Shostakovich's Piano Quintet, Prokofiev's First Violin Sonata or Bartók's First Violin Sonata and new pieces by young Hungarian composers. Festival Academy's inspirational venues in Budapest's beautiful and bustling downtown provide real oases of harmony in the weekday chaos.

MASTERCLASSES AT THE FESTIVAL ACADEMY BUDAPEST

FIND YOUR MAESTRO!

What is a masterclass good for? You receive guidance from the greatest of the great in your personal progress, you can get the knack of their prowess, become familiar with their professional attitudes. With the help of your mentors, you can immerse in the secrets of the masterworks of music history. A chamber music masterclass teaches you how to cooperate; you can make friends with fellow-musicians from all over the world and perhaps find your future chamber music partners. As the reward of your conscientious and hard work, you can perform with your favorite maestros and maestras at the concerts of the Festival Academy.
